MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

It is my pleasure to provide you with the Annual Report for Federal Fiscal Year 2008 for the Rhode Island Department of Human Services, Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS). ORS is charged with empowering Rhode Islanders with disabilities to obtain and maintain employment, economic self-sufficiency, independence and full integration into society. Vocational Rehabilitation Services, Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired and Disability Determination Services provide a myriad of resources and services which enhance the quality of life for Rhode Islanders with disabilities.

Younger individuals with disabilities and their families work with vocational rehabilitation counselors in order to make that important transition from school to post-secondary education and careers. The business and labor community depend on ORS for trained, job-ready applicants. Rhode Islanders applying for social security disability benefits get accurate and timely decisions, and Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired provides for individuals who have a visual impairment a comprehensive array of personalized services.

In FFY 2008 6,736 persons with disabilities were provided vocational rehabilitation, training and employment services. The Disability Determination Services adjudicated 12,387 claims for social security disability benefits.

We are proud of the partnerships that our staff has developed with our citizen advisory councils, our customers and the community, which has contributed so much to the quality of life for individuals with disabilities in Rhode Island.

Gary D. Alexander, Director
MESSAGE FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR

On behalf of the Office of Rehabilitation Services, I am pleased to present to you the 2008 Annual Report. The purpose of the Office of Rehabilitation Services is to provide customized and comprehensive services to individuals with disabilities that will maximize their quality of life, self reliance, and economic independence in the community.

We have included success stories that reflect the diversity of our customers and their needs. We want to describe the partnership between our staff and our customers that makes rehabilitation work.

The Vocational Rehabilitation Program increases revenue at all levels of government and decreases the burden of income maintenance programs. As persons with disabilities achieve an employment outcome, they become tax-paying citizens and more than pay back the cost of the program.

In 2008, ORS assisted 750 individuals with disabilities to obtain competitive employment. With an emphasis on serving individuals with the most significant disabilities, ORS is making a real difference in the lives of individuals with disabilities and their families. The accomplishments outlined in this annual report reflect favorably on the efforts of the staff who, by hard work and commitment, have continued a long tradition of serving Rhode Islanders with disabilities.

We are also indebted to the Rhode Island State Rehabilitation Council, Statewide Independent Living Council, Governor’s Advisory Council for the Blind & Visually Impaired, State Committee of Blind Vendors, and Rhode Island Council on Assistive Technology, for their partnership and help in maximizing the potential of persons with disabilities. I also extend my appreciation to our hard-working and capable staff along with our many public and private partners.

Stephen J. Brunero, Administrator
The Rhode Island Rehabilitation Council is proud to share the 2008 Annual Report. This year has emerged as one of the more challenging in recent memory, yet we continue to be pleased with the results achieved by the Council and the vocational rehabilitation program. Budget shortfalls this year have threatened the rehabilitation programs ability to maintain the high quality of service and performance outcomes we have grown to expect in Rhode Island. In these trying times, the relationship between the Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) and the Rehabilitation Council have grown and become stronger. In challenging times, we often come together and emerge with a stronger relationship. I believe this has been the case this year.

The Council has continued to organize its work through strategic plans executed with the staff of the Agency. You will see evidence of this in the committee reports. Each committee has continued to work with the staff to design improvements in the areas critical to the success of the program.

The State Plan, Policy, and Quality Assurance Committee have continued to improve the connection between qualitative results for the customers of the Agency and the plans to move the Agency forward. This work will continue in 2009 with the development of the Comprehensive Needs Assessment.

A significant role for the Council this year has been as advocate for the program. Budget cuts, expansion of the public assistance to work initiatives and an unprecedented number of State Employee retirements have threatened the agencies’ ability to maintain services. Although performance targets did not show a significant impact from these changes, most occurred late in the year and evidence may not emerge until next year’s performance report.

The Council took a lead role in organizing the Governors Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired and the State Independent Living Council in a joint effort to promote the benefits of the vocational rehabilitation program. The Council was successful in getting these concerns shared in the Providence Business News, the States leading business news outlet, and utilized this coverage to carry the message to the States Congressional Delegates, the Governor, State Legislators, and Department Directors. The Council is satisfied that the message has been heard but more work will need to be done in 2009 to ensure the future stability of employment services for Rhode Islanders with disabilities.

Rhode Island has shared a rich and proud history of advocacy for its citizens with disabilities and as we continue to face a challenging fiscal environment, the Rhode Island State Rehabilitation Council will continue to work with the Agency in meeting the needs of Rhode Islanders with disabilities. The Council stands ready to advocate for the rehabilitation program that provides effective, results-oriented services for Rhode Islanders. Please join us for a Council meeting. They are open to the public and information is available on the website, www.ors.ri.gov.

STATE REHABILITATION COUNCIL
COMMITTEE REPORTS

EMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE

This critical committee is charged with increasing employment outcomes for individuals with disabilities through employer partnerships.

The Employment Committee has examined the Comprehensive Needs Assessment in accordance with the Rehabilitation Act. This assessment research, in conjunction with our State Performance Plan, has been the catalyst for the strategic planning and the development of our Marketing Plan. The Marketing Plan includes furthering outreach to the Rhode Island Business community through all the Chamber of Commerce and the RI Business Leadership Network. Specifically, an article slated for press release, detailing the benefits of the Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) as a qualified labor resource, has been finalized and disseminated. The article was written with the intention of updating it yearly in order to maintain ongoing promotion of the Agency. In addition, representatives from the Greater Providence Chamber, our committee, and ORS’ Business Development Liaison, met to plan strategies that support the Agency in the key area of Job Development.

The Employment Committee has begun discussion about our long-term goals and the need to identify linkages in the community that would enhance the work of the Agency, in addition to educating committee and Council members about existing groups and support.

I respectfully submit our report on behalf of my Vice-chair, Dominic DiOrio, and the entire Employment Committee. I also want to thank my committee for influencing positive ideas and giving quality time in all their work towards initiating, researching, strategizing our plans, and for achieving our goals this past year.

Respectfully Submitted,
Susan Donovan, Chair
Employment Committee
NOMINATING AND LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

This committee is responsible to recruit and develop members for the Council that are committed to our mission to work with the Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) to assure that all disabled Rhode Islanders are able to obtain and keep meaningful and satisfying employment.

In keeping with our requirement to adhere to the Federal guidelines and by-laws for membership, our goal to continue with diversity of membership included recruiting nominees from three areas - minority, business and disabled/discouraged populations. We solicited potential membership candidate recommendations from within our own Council as well as the community. The committee interviewed and recommended four new candidates for appointment by the Governor for the upcoming year. In addition, the committee recommended the reappointment of eligible members whose terms were expiring.

Leadership development has been accomplished by continuing the Guest Speaker Program to better educate us on issues related to client needs and available resources. This project has helped us broaden our scope of vision and explore cooperative efforts to identify and serve those in need.

A goal remains to identify all related disability rehabilitation providers in the State and identify duplication of efforts and specialties. Consequently this has been delayed due to reorganization in the State caused by budget cuts. We are hopeful to proceed with this in the upcoming year.

These accomplishments would not have been possible without the efforts and personal time of the volunteer members of the committee and our chairperson Domenic DiOrio who has dedicated most of his life to help disadvantaged populations.

Respectfully Submitted,
Lucille Massemino, Co-chair
Nominating and Leadership Development Committee
STATE PLAN, POLICY AND QUALITY ASSURANCE COMMITTEE

The State Plan, Policy and Quality Assurance Committee of the State Rehabilitation Council is charged with advising the Agency about its plans and policies in accordance with the Rehabilitation Act. The committee is also concerned with the quality of services delivered to the Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) consumers by reviewing and analyzing customer satisfaction with ORS.

Each year, the Council identifies areas of concern and sets work goals. In 2008, as in other years, the committee consulted with the Council in the Strategic Planning Initiative to identify action steps and timelines for accomplishment of committee-specific tasks. In October 2007 the committee reviewed its prior goals of improving the timeline for review of the State Plan, to work with ORS to develop a Quality Assurance Plan, and the involvement of the design and implementation of the Statewide Needs Assessment survey. The committee also discussed changes to the State budget and its effect on service delivery.

The State Plan serves as a guide for ORS each year. The SRC provides feedback and public testimony regarding the draft plan on an annual basis. This year, as in prior years, the SRC State Plan, Policy, and Quality Assurance committee consulted with the SRC about its concerns. We expressed our view that ORS was increasingly burdened by State budget cuts and that additional resources are required in light of the new RI Works initiative. In addition to our comments on the State Plan, the committee generally reviews proposed policies and procedures of ORS to ensure compliance with federal law. This year, although there were no policy revisions, the Agency did raise a concern about continued service delivery to all eligible customers. In that regard, the committee has met briefly with ORS staff about whether it should or should not change its Order of Selection Criteria. Next year, these discussions will continue as needed. A designated ORS staff person continues to help the committee understand any proposed changes and is receptive to the committee’s views about the impact such changes might have on ORS customers.

Last year, the State Plan, Policy and Quality Assurance Committee indicated a desire to be involved in the design and implementation of a Statewide Needs Assessment that will be used as a tool to review consumer satisfaction with the Agency. Although the SRC was not involved in the design and implementation of the Needs Assessment due to time constraints and logistical concerns, the committee did review with ORS the data from the initial surveys. ORS conducted a survey to vendors who provide services to traditionally underserved and unserved populations. In FY 2009, ORS will consult with the committee to identify one new vendor with whom it can develop a new relationship.

On behalf of the entire State Plan, Policy, and Quality Assurance Committee, I submit our report. I also thank my committee members for their dedication and hard work.

Respectfully submitted,
Joseph Ferreira, Chair
State Plan, Policy and Quality Assurance Committee

TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE

The transportation committee is an ad-hoc, short-term sub-committee of the State Rehabilitation Council. Our mission is to research and identify barriers to the use of public and private transportation for citizens with disabilities in the State of Rhode Island.

The Council has continued to work on the barriers to employment presented by transportation through this committee. Over the past year we completed and distributed a transportation survey; the goal of the survey was to identify barriers to transportation access and to learn what transportation resources are being provided to citizens with disabilities from the organizations and non-profits. The committee is in the process of analyzing the results, which will be used to provide the SRC, the RIDE Program, and the Rhode Island Public Transit Authority with feedback on what our major barriers are, and what transportation resources may be available through private collaboration that could be allocated more efficiently.

In the coming year it is our goal to produce a report that may offer suggestions for changes and economies that might be made to the public and private transportation network that may meet the transportation needs of more Rhode Islanders with disabilities. Other transportation activities may also arise out of that report.

On behalf of the entire Transportation Committee, I submit our report. I also thank the committee members for their dedication and hard work.

Respectfully Submitted,
Judi Drew, Chair
Transportation Committee

Disability Determination Services (DDS) is the unit within the Office of Rehabilitation Services which determines the medical eligibility of Rhode Island residents, both children and adults, who have applied for benefits under the Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) and Supplemental Security Insurance (SSI) programs. The DDS, although fully-federally funded by the Social Security Administration (SSA), is a state agency responsible for obtaining the medical records and other information needed to determine whether the applicant meets the criteria for disability as defined by the SSA rules and regulations.

In 2005, the DDS officially began the process of converting from a paper-based system to a fully electronic model. Presently, the DDS has the capacity to process better than 95% of its current workload in an electronic format. The last subset of cases not amenable to electronic processing (Continuing Disability Reviews) became part of the electronic adjudicative process in the fall of 2008 after the upgrading of existing processing systems was completed.

Beginning in 2006 and continuing through 2007, the Rhode Island DDS was instrumental in advancing the electronic process to the next level as one of 6 states nationally to pilot a newly structured case adjudication system. This new model known as DSI (Disability Service Improvement) utilized the innovations available in the electronic processes to identify and streamline the adjudication and review of cases with a high likelihood of being allowed. As a pilot state, Rhode Island tested multiple manifestations of the model and gave critical input in determining which elements of DSI would move forward. The DSI paradigm did not survive in its original model but the finest aspects of the design were saved and incorporated nationally to improve the overall product utilized by disability examiners in all states.

The Rhode Island DDS continues to play an important role in determining the design of the adjudicative model for the Social Security disability program. This is accomplished by testing, evaluating, and incorporating the innovations which make the system more friendly and navigable for the disability applicant. In FY 2008 the RI DDS processed more than 12,000 disability application for residents of Rhode Island and achieved measures of accuracy and productivity which ranked in the top 10% in the nation.
SUCCESS STORIES

Jimmy Spicolla has a long history with Rhode Island’s Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired. Not limited to vocational rehabilitation services, Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired (SBVI) offers programs and services for all Rhode Islanders regardless of age. Prior to working with SBVI’s vocational rehabilitation unit, Jimmy utilized supports in SBVI’s Social Services Unit, including service coordination, information and referral, and family counseling.

When Jimmy turned 14, he transitioned to the SBVI’s vocational rehabilitation unit exploring his long term educational and vocational goals. Throughout high school, SBVI worked in conjunction with Jimmy’s local school department providing technical assistance, orientation and mobility instruction, and rehabilitation counseling services.

During the summer months Jimmy would attend Camp Mauchatea, a residential summer camp sponsored and organized by SBVI’s Social Services Department to help children learn how to live independently and develop confidence.

As Jimmy prepared to graduate high school and transition to college, SBVI’s Vocational Rehabilitation Unit assisted with orientation of the campus. He required specialized assistive technology to level the playing field with his sighted peers. Jimmy may have been eligible to receive tuition assistance from SBVI, though he chose to work two part-time jobs on campus instead.

Jimmy became very involved with the campus radio station, producing shows, and providing on-air talent. Jimmy majored in Communications and decided to pursue a career in radio and knew he had to work harder than his peers to break into such a competitive field. With SBVI’s assistance, Jimmy rose to the occasion.

Now employed as the Assistant Director of Insight Radio, Jimmy is quick to acknowledge the importance of the services and support he received from SBVI. He utilizes the knowledge that he gained from the Social Service Unit and Vocational Units through SBVI and Office of Rehabilitation Services on a daily basis.
SUCCESS STORIES

“Michael” was referred to ORS by netWORKKri in January, 2008. His primary diagnosis was Type I Diabetes with peripheral circulatory disorders, foot cellulitis, osteomyelitis of the ankle and foot, and alcohol abuse. ORS worked very closely in collaboration with a representative from netWORKKri who assisted with job development and placement services.

Since Michael was homeless, ORS and netWORKKri spoke with RI Placement Coalition who assisted Michael in finding an apartment. The netWORKKri representative also contacted McCauley House who assisted Michael with obtaining one month of free medications that were prescribed by his doctor, which were needed for Michael to maintain his job. When Michael began working, transportation issues arose which could have become a barrier to his successful employment. ORS provided various alternatives when he was unable to use his car. ORS provided a bus pass letter so that he could take the bus when needed. ORS also provided funds for required work-related clothes and shoes. Michael obtained a full-time security guard position as well as a 2nd part-time job in May, 2008.

LonTega Morris is a 26-year old woman with dysfluencies, a severe stuttering problem. She had begun receiving treatment at age 7, however, there was a lack of success in decreasing her stuttering.

LonTega received a Bachelor’s Degree in Sociology from Emmanuel College in 2003.

A portion of LonTega’s job was to provide mentoring to students at community presentations. LonTega’s job also required a lot of telephone and interpersonal communication. However, her condition worsened because of her anxiety over public speaking, and her stuttering increased with the additional stress on the job.

Her ORS counselor referred her to RI Hospital for a Fluency Evaluation. The therapist recommended the Speech Easy Device, which was purchased by ORS along with training to help her optimize its use. This device helped minimize her stuttering to an acceptable level in all circumstances which helps her to increase her confidence level on the job.

LonTega is currently employed as a Residential Coordinator in North Providence.
“Anthony” was referred to ORS by his physician while in Cardiac Rehab in January, 2008. Anthony's career was as an off-shore fisherman for 26 years. He suffered a heart attack while 250 miles off shore and lost consciousness. He was med-flighted to Hyannis after six hours at sea for treatment and returned to Rhode Island for stabilization and treatment.

When the ORS Counselor met 46-year old Anthony, he was depressed and shook by this totally unexpected experience. Anthony was physically in great shape and had no warning prior to this event. Anthony could not take the chance to go off-shore again. His ORS Counselor, Michaela Stannard, referred him to Kim Picard of WAVES Adeline LaPlante Center for a vocational evaluation and situational assessments. Anthony liked the staff at WAVES, and they wanted to help him with his impending career change, memory loss and depression.

Anthony went to Cardiac Rehab in South County and could go to WAVES without additional stress in his life. Anthony is the father of three small children and holds a large mortgage. His wife returned to work for income, and Anthony needed to be available to his young children while she worked.

Many vocational options were explored with Anthony. He went to a friend who owns a twine shop in Point Judith. He investigated employment at Superior Trawl that recently developed a haddock trawl which held a unique technology and net called “The Eliminator Trawl” for capturing only haddock and avoiding other fish that could not be retained. Anthony made and repaired nets and had his own unique knowledge as an experienced off-shore fisherman and has some very positive ideas for business.

Anthony's ORS counselor met with Anthony and Jonathan Knight of Superior Trawl to arrange an On-the-Job Training (OJT) within this company. Anthony was hired in Retail Sales of the new product. ORS provided on-the-job training funds, Quickbook training and a stipend for sales clothing.

Today the haddock trawl is internationally known and in great demand. Anthony runs the Retail Shop and keeps inventory through his new computer skills. He could have the opportunity to travel internationally in this sales position as well.

Anthony states that he is very grateful to ORS and WAVES for assisting him through the difficult time that he had while in rehabilitation. He does not feel stress in his employment at Superior Trawl and is grateful to his employer for assisting him in regaining a career that he loves to do.
