MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

It is my pleasure to provide you with the Annual Report for Federal Fiscal Year 2009 for the Rhode Island Department of Human Services, Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS). ORS is charged with empowering Rhode Islanders with disabilities to obtain and maintain employment, economic self-sufficiency, independence and full integration into society. Vocational Rehabilitation Services, Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired and Disability Determination Services provide a myriad of resources and services which enhance the quality of life for Rhode Islanders with disabilities.

Younger individuals with disabilities and their families work with vocational rehabilitation counselors in order to make that important transition from school to post-secondary education and careers. The business and labor community depend on ORS for trained, job-ready applicants. Rhode Islanders applying for social security disability benefits get accurate and timely decisions, and Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired provides for individuals who have a visual impairment. ORS provides a comprehensive array of personalized services to Rhode Islanders with disabilities.

In FFY 2009 7,346 persons with disabilities were provided vocational rehabilitation, training and employment services. The Disability Determination Services adjudicated 14,506 claims for social security disability benefits.

We are proud of the partnerships that our staff has developed with our citizen advisory councils, our customers and the community, which has contributed so much to the quality of life for individuals with disabilities in Rhode Island.

Gary D. Alexander, Director
On behalf of the Office of Rehabilitation Services, I am pleased to present to you the 2009 Annual Report. The purpose of the Office of Rehabilitation Services is to provide customized and comprehensive services to individuals with disabilities that will maximize their quality of life, self-reliance, and economic independence in the community.

We have included success stories that reflect the diversity of our customers and their needs. We want to describe the partnership between our staff and our customers that makes rehabilitation work.

The Vocational Rehabilitation Program increases revenue at all levels of government and decreases the burden of income maintenance programs. As persons with disabilities achieve an employment outcome, they become tax-paying citizens and more than pay back the cost of the program. In 2009, ORS assisted 756 individuals with disabilities to obtain competitive employment. With an emphasis on serving individuals with the most significant disabilities, ORS is making a real difference in the lives of individuals with disabilities and their families. The accomplishments outlined in this annual report reflect favorably on the efforts of the staff who, by hard work and commitment, have continued a long tradition of serving Rhode Islanders with disabilities.

We are also indebted to the Rhode Island State Rehabilitation Council, Statewide Independent Living Council, Governor’s Advisory Council for the Blind & Visually Impaired, State Committee of Blind Vendors, and Rhode Island Council on Assistive Technology for their partnership and help in maximizing the potential of persons with disabilities. I also extend my appreciation to our hard-working and capable staff along with our many public and private partners.

Stephen J. Brunero, Administrator
MESSAGE FROM THE STATE REHABILITATION COUNCIL CHAIR

The Rhode Island Rehabilitation Council is proud to share the 2009 Annual Report. Rhode Island has faced an economic crisis of significant proportions; the worst that most can remember. Over the past year the State has consistently placed in the top five states for highest unemployment rates. In spite of this challenge, the work of the State Rehabilitation Council and the Office of Rehabilitation Services has moved forward, and the Agency has continued to meet all of its performance targets including helping 756 Rhode Islanders secure employment.

The partnership between the Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) and the Rehabilitation Council continues to strengthen and grow. The Council and ORS personnel have faced the challenges this year, with positive results, and continued to succeed because of this strong relationship.

Work of the Council continues to be organized around the priorities established in the State Plan through the Council’s committee structure. ORS leadership is represented on each committee, enabling Council membership to better understand the demands on the Agency and provide support for the structures that allow ORS to be as effective as possible. The Council has successfully advocated through the political process for resources to enable the Agency to fulfill its mission and serve Rhode Islanders seeking employment and independence.

The infusion of Federal stimulus money this year allowed the Office of Rehabilitation Services to branch into new service delivery opportunities with impressive results. The Council has continued to be a partner with the Agency in examining the effectiveness of strategies and services. The Comprehensive Needs Assessment is an important facilitator to the work of the Council, and it will continue to inform the establishment of goals and priorities next year.
The Executive Committee and full Council continue our support of the National Coalition of SRCs (NCSRC). On March 11, 2008 the Council voted to sign the NCSRC Resolution. The Council is unanimous in endorsing the NCSRC, and we will continue to support the growth and success of this organization.

On a personal note, I will complete my term as a Council member this year and as the present Chair. This has been a wonderful opportunity to work with some of the most professional advocates in our State – both Council members and ORS personnel. Together we have nurtured a relationship of respect while advancing positive outcomes for Rhode Islanders with disabilities. I would also like to recognize the Council’s Administrative Assistant Nancy Baker for her organizational and emotional support of the Council. Thank you all for the opportunity to lead such an impressive group.

Rhode Island has a rich and proud history of advocacy for its citizens with disabilities and as we continue to face a challenging fiscal environment, the Rhode Island Rehabilitation Council will continue to work with the Office of Rehabilitation Services in meeting the needs of Rhode Islanders with disabilities. The Council stands ready to advocate for the rehabilitation program that provides effective, results-oriented services for Rhode Islanders.

Please join us for a Council meeting. They are open to the public and information is available on the website, www.ors.ri.gov.

STATE REHABILITATION COUNCIL COMMITTEES

Employment Committee

This critical committee is charged with increasing employment outcomes for individuals with disabilities through employer partnerships.

The Employment Committee has set goals for activity in three areas during the forthcoming program year:

- Inter-agency coordination and cooperation by statewide agencies and committees that concentrate on generating and developing employment opportunities for people with disabilities.

- Communication with federal and state government agencies responsible for overseeing compliance by employers with regulations relative to the hiring of applicants and policies for active employees. The focus would be on increasing education and assistance aimed at reducing the incidence of violations so that more employers, reluctant to do so now, would consider employing people with disabilities.

- Develop programs in addition to a Business Advisory Council designed to attract more employers to take an active interest in the work of SRC and other agencies committed to increasing employment opportunities for people with disabilities.

Respectfully submitted,
Sanford Lupovitz and Domenic DiOrio, Co-Chairs
Nominating and Leadership Development Committee

This committee is responsible to recruit and develop members for the Council that are committed to our mission to work with the Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) to assure that all disabled Rhode Islanders are able to obtain and keep meaningful and satisfying employment.

The Nominating and Leadership Development Committee is ever diligent, working closely in support of the Office of Rehabilitation (ORS) to fulfill the State Rehabilitation Council’s (SRC) mission and to select professional, experienced individuals from minority, business, and disabled populations, to serve on the Council. Adhering to the Federal guidelines and our By-laws, the Nominating and Leadership Development Committee’s efforts have met with success in bringing new leadership and qualified members aboard.

This past year our Committee recruited four new enterprising members and recommended the re-appointments of five members whose terms were expiring. In addition, our Committee recommended the names of two Rehabilitation Counselors from ORS as replacements for the mandated position.

The Leadership Development Program has presented several guest speakers that reported to the membership on pertinent issues addressing multiple needs of ORS consumers and provided invaluable knowledge of available resources.

Our Committee’s accomplishments have been achieved through unwavering dedication, not only in successfully executing the Federal mandates, but also with ongoing assistance to compliment the efforts of our sister Committees on the Council.

The Nominating and Leadership Development Committee will continue our commitment to recruit new members, to educate, and to expand the Leadership Development Program allowing for a vibrant partnership with the Office of Rehabilitation Services.

Respectfully submitted,

Lucille Massimino and Domenic DiOrio, Co-Chairs
State Plan, Policy, and Quality Assurance Committee

The State Plan, Policy, and Quality Assurance Committee of the State Rehabilitation Council is charged with advising the Agency about its plans and policies in accordance with the Rehabilitation Act. The committee is also concerned with the quality of services delivered to the Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) consumers by reviewing and analyzing customer satisfaction with ORS.

Each year, the Council identifies areas of concern and sets work goals. In 2009, as in other years, the committee consulted with the Council in the Strategic Planning Initiative to identify action steps and timelines for accomplishment of committee-specific tasks. The committee reviewed its prior goals of improving the timeline for review of the State Plan, to work with ORS to develop a Quality Assurance Plan, and the involvement of the design and implementation of the Statewide Needs Assessment survey. The committee also discussed changes to the State budget and its effect on service delivery.

The State Plan serves as a guide for ORS each year. The SRC provides feedback and public testimony regarding the draft plan on an annual basis. This year, as in prior years, the SRC State Plan, Policy, and Quality Assurance Committee consulted with the SRC about its concerns. We expressed our view again this year that ORS was increasingly burdened by State budget cuts and that additional resources are required. In addition to our comments on the State Plan, the committee generally reviews proposed policies and procedures of ORS to ensure compliance with federal law.

In this past year, the State Plan, Policy, and Quality Assurance Committee participated in the design and implementation of a Customer Satisfaction Survey to be used as a tool to review consumer satisfaction with the Agency. The surveys target status “26” and “28” closures. Status “26” is successful closure and status “28” is incomplete/unsuccessful closures. The surveys will be sent to consumers on a quarterly basis, and the findings will be used to track customer satisfaction trends and provide quality assurance and policy recommendations to ORS.

On behalf of the entire State Plan, Policy, and Quality Assurance Committee, we submit our report. We would also like to thank the committee members for their dedication and hard work.

Respectfully submitted,

Catherine Sansonetti and Kate McCarthy-Barnett, Co-Chairs
Transportation Committee

The Transportation Committee is an ad-hoc, short-term sub-committee of the State Rehabilitation Council. Our mission is to research and identify barriers to the use of public and private transportation for citizens with disabilities in the State of Rhode Island.

The Council has continued to work on the barriers to employment presented by transportation through this committee. Over the past year we have evaluated the purpose of the committee. Transportation is a difficult issue for a volunteer committee to tackle. We decided that it is an important issue, however, and looked for ways to be effective within the constraints of a volunteer committee.

We contacted universities to present to students some proposed research projects, including a database of human service providers, and a study on what it would take for a consumer to start a transportation service business, but were not able to make this happen this year. Another proposed research project was to have college students help identify who the organizations are that are working on transportation issues and identify common themes and transportation needs for these organizations. Vocational Rehabilitation Counseling students at Salve Regina were approached, but this has also not yet happened.

The committee decided to try to bring together state and human service agency staff working on transportation issues in an ongoing Transportation Consortium to improve and coordinate advocacy efforts. The planning for a kickoff meeting is underway, with goals to identify common issues and differences, develop a transportation resource inventory, and identify gaps and overlaps in services. The vision for this group is to:

- Create an ongoing forum and working group for transportation issues faced by Rhode Islanders with disabilities

- Focus the efforts often spread across multiple committees and meetings so that more effective, coordinated advocacy efforts representing a larger number of groups can be undertaken (legislative and funding)
• Focus on resources available and making the most of these resources across all agencies, so that a data-driven case can be made to support advocacy efforts for additional transportation funding and services

• Develop a statewide transportation needs assessment along with a statewide cost-benefit analysis of additional investment

We look forward to moving this effort along in the coming year. On behalf of the entire Transportation Committee, we submit our report, and would like to also thank the committee members for their dedication and hard work.

Respectfully Submitted,
Anne LeClerc and Judi Drew, Co-Chairs

VOCAUTIONAL REHABILITATION PROGRAM

The Vocational Rehabilitation process consists of assisting an individual with a disability to assess his/her vocational abilities and to identify, coordinate and provide services needed to realize employment. The partnership between each individual with a disability and their Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor is a key component in the Vocational Rehabilitation process. The individual and his/her Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor work together to develop an Employment Plan which will assist them to reach their employment goal.

Vocational rehabilitation services that may be included in an Employment Plan are:

- Counseling and Guidance to help plan vocational goals and services
- Transition Services from School to Career
- Rehabilitation Technology Services
- Assistive Technology Services
- Diagnostic Evaluations
- College or Vocational Training
- Job Development and Placement Services
- Vehicle Modifications
- Housing Modifications
- Post-Employment Services
- Other Goods & Services
- Job Training & Supports

Deaf Services...

The Office of Rehabilitation Services helps individuals who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing obtain services to meet their needs, provides counseling and guidance to help plan vocational goals and services, and assists the individual to obtain employment. ORS serves as a resource to professionals, state agencies, community organizations, and the public providing information related to employment, training and accommodations for persons who have a hearing loss.
Independent Living Services…

The Office of Rehabilitation Services purchases assessments and independent living services from the two Independent Living Centers, PARI and OSCIL, as part of preparing individuals with significant disabilities for employment.

The Rhode Island Learning Disabilities Project...

The LD Project is a unique Department of Human Services intra-agency initiative between the Office of Rehabilitation Services and the RI Works (formerly FIP) program. This collaborative relationship was created to help identify parents on cash assistance with learning disabilities, and to provide the necessary accommodations and vocational training programs in order for individuals to become independent and economically self-sufficient. During 2009, the nationally-recognized LD Project served 138 individuals and assisted 14 individuals with learning disabilities to reach their employment goals.

Supported Employment...

Supported employment assists individuals with the most significant disabilities who need ongoing supports to choose, find and keep competitive employment in community-integrated settings. After initial services by ORS, long-term funding is provided through other funding sources.

Transition...

The Office of Rehabilitation Services has a strong commitment to assist students with disabilities with transition planning to adult life. ORS counselors assist all school districts and students with disabilities and their families to plan services to help students reach career goals. ORS counselors provide technical assistance and information to school systems and work in partnership with school transition staff, 5 Regional Educational Collaboratives, and 4 Transition Academies to improve transition planning.
OTHER PROGRAMS

Adaptive Telephone Equipment Loan (ATEL) Program…

The ATEL Program loans telephone equipment to residents of the State of Rhode Island who have hearing, speech, or neuromuscular (unable to dial or hold a receiver) impairments and have a signed certificate of disability. Equipment is issued on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Assistive Technology Access Partnership (ATAP)…

The Office of Rehabilitation Services is the lead agency for the Rhode Island Assistive Technology Access Partnership (ATAP). ATAP is a statewide program funded under the Assistive Technology Act of 1998, which works to reduce or eliminate barriers that impede access to, and funding for, assistive technology devices and services for individuals with disabilities of all ages.

Home Modification Program…

The Office of Rehabilitation Services administers federal and state independent living funds which provide home accessibility and adaptive equipment for individuals who are significantly disabled, to enable them to meet independent living goals in their homes and communities.

State PCA Program…

The Office of Rehabilitation Services contracts with PARI Independent Living Center to be the fiscal agent for the State Personal Care Assistance program for individuals who are not eligible for Medicaid-funded waivers. Through this program individuals are able to continue living in the community rather than a nursing home.

Work Incentive Planning & Assistance (WIPA)...

WIPA is a cooperative agreement with the Social Security Administration and the Office of Rehabilitation Services. The goal of the project is to assist SSA beneficiaries with disabilities to succeed in their efforts to obtain or return to work. The project emphasizes return to work efforts by providing accurate information regarding work incentives planning, assistance and outreach services that are designed to encourage beneficiaries with disabilities to seek, maintain and regain employment.
SERVICES FOR THE BLIND AND VISUALLY IMPAIRED

Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired (SBVI) offers a wide array of services to eligible individuals who are blind or visually impaired through its Vocational Rehabilitation Unit, Business Enterprises Program, and Social Services Program. The various services offered by these programs are designed to help individuals of all ages achieve independence at home, in the community, and in the workplace.

Vocational Rehabilitation Program...

is a Federal/State Program created to assist people who are blind or visually impaired to obtain or maintain employment. Services provided include evaluation, orientation, mobility training, rehabilitation technology, guidance and counseling, career assessment, educational planning, vocational training, provision of adaptive equipment, job development, placement, and follow-up services.

Business Enterprises Program...

is a Federal/State Program which establishes vending facilities in state, federal or private buildings for operation by persons who are legally blind. Licensed blind vendors operate vending facilities at 18 locations throughout the state and are assigned to these locations on the basis of their seniority within the program. Types of facilities range from small snack bars serving light snacks and beverages to larger food-service sites serving hot and cold entrees prepared on-site. All operate under the name of “Coffee Plus”.

Coffee Plus

is a comprehensive newspaper reading service available to individuals who are blind, visually impaired, or print handicapped, that is accessible through the use of any touch-tone telephone. Individuals can access more than 200 newspapers and magazines, including The Providence Journal, The New York Times, USA Today, The Wall Street Journal, and the AARP Monthly Newsletter.

Social Services Program…

Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired coordinates a federal comprehensive service program which focuses primarily on children from birth through age 14, elderly individuals, and individuals for whom a vocational goal is not feasible.

“Zahra at 3 years old using Perkins Brailler”
- Children’s Case Management Services include family casework, coordination with Early Intervention Programs, educational guidance, summer camp for youth, arrangement of ophthalmological and low vision evaluations, and information and referral to appropriate community programs.

- Vision Screening Program through Saving Sight RI which utilizes an MTI photoscreening device to take pictures of the child’s eye without the child having to read an eye chart. Screenings are done in day care centers, nursery schools, public schools and other community locations.

- Independent Living for Older Blind Program provides case management services, along with ancillary services for mobility, and orientation, rehabilitation teaching for skills training in activities of daily living, management of low vision, provisions of adaptive equipment, and information and referral to support groups and appropriate community services.
Disability Determination Services (DDS) is the unit within the Office of Rehabilitation Services which determines the medical eligibility of Rhode Island residents (both children and adults) who have applied for benefits under the Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) and Supplemental Security Insurance (SSI) programs. The DDS, although fully-federally funded by the Social Security Administration (SSA), is a state agency responsible for obtaining the medical records and other information needed to determine whether the applicant meets the criteria for disability as defined by the SSA rules and regulations.

About 5 years ago the Rhode Island DDS began the process of converting from a paper-based system to a fully electronic model. Presently, the DDS has the capacity to process better than 95% of its current workload in an electronic format. The last subset of cases not amenable to electronic processing (Continuing Disability Reviews) became part of the electronic adjudicative process in the fall of 2008 after the upgrading of existing processing systems was completed.

In 2006 and 2007, the Rhode Island DDS was one of 6 states nationally to pilot a newly structured case adjudication system. This new model known as DSI (Disability Service Improvement) utilized the innovations available in the electronic processes to identify and streamline the adjudication and review of cases with a high likelihood of being allowed. As a pilot state, Rhode Island tested multiple manifestations of the model and gave critical input in determining which elements of DSI would move forward. The DSI paradigm did not survive in its original model but the finest aspects of the design were saved and incorporated nationally to improve the overall product utilized by disability examiners in all states.

The Rhode Island DDS continues to play an important role in determining the design of the adjudicative model for the Social Security Disability Program. This is accomplished by testing, evaluating, and incorporating the innovations which make the system more friendly and navigable for the disability applicant.
In FY 2009 the RI DDS processed more than 16,000 disability applications for residents of Rhode Island and achieved measures of accuracy and productivity which ranked in the top 10% in the nation. The number of individuals seeking disability determinations has increased dramatically over the past two years both in Rhode Island and nationwide, partly as a function of the widespread economic downturn. In federal FY 2009 Rhode Island DDS’s case receipts increased by over 35%, which was the third highest percentage increase in the country. The RIDDS, with a diminished staff, has struggled to keep pace with its workload. The by-product unfortunately has been a progressively longer wait for disabled Rhode Islanders to receive information as to the outcome of their disability application. The case processing time in Rhode Island is the worst in the country, at more than double the national average. The continued increase in case receipts coupled with the current insufficient staffing patterns does not bode well for any improvement in the promptness of adjudication services offered to the citizens of Rhode Island.

SUCCESS STORIES

“As reported, ORS assisted 756 individuals to obtain employment in jobs that were consistent with their goals and aspirations. Of that number, ORS would like to showcase some individuals who exemplify the benefits of employment.”

Client: Vilma Cartagena
Counselor: Sheridan Lomax

Vilma Cartagena is a thirty-nine year old single mother of a teenage son. She has been coping with a serious medical disability for over eighteen years. She wanted to seek employment in a career she had a passion and calling for despite her disability. Vilma was referred by the Department of Human Services/RI Works to the Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) to pursue her dream of becoming a Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA).

Vilma was referred by Sheridan Lomax, her Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor, to Goodwill Industries, a partner vendor agency to ORS, where she was evaluated and began her preparation for work.

She participated in the Learn to Earn Program (LEEP) for four weeks. This program is designed to provide work readiness skills to clients and was funded by ORS. She graduated successfully and continued on to attend the CNA Program provided through Comprehensive Educational Services.

On June 28, 2009, Vilma graduated with flying colors and received her CNA certification. She is currently working at Mansion Nursing Home located in Central Falls. Vilma is truly a success story and an inspiration for any individual with a disability.
Client: Scott
Counselor: Karen LeBeau

Scott is a 35-year old married man with one daughter. He uses a below the elbow prosthesis. Scott wanted to complete a welding program. Since this career matched his skills and vocational interests, ORS supported this goal. As a result, Scott was hired by Electric Boat as an Arc Welder.

Scott was re-referred to ORS by Nunnery Orthotic & Prosthetic Technology. ORS provided funding to purchase the prosthesis that Scott’s medical insurance was not able to initially provide. As a result, Nunnery Orthotic was able to provide a prosthetic that would allow Scott to more efficiently and independently complete all his job duties. ORS also provided funds for Scott’s co-pays for his physical therapy.

Scott has been working at Electric Boat for over 4 years. He was hired using a below the elbow prosthesis, however was unable to complete all job duties assigned and needed another employee to do so. Electric Boat knew Scott was working with Nunnery Prosthetics to find a more suitable prosthesis that would enable Scott to independently complete all assigned duties. Electric Boat has been patiently waiting for over 2 years for Scott’s below the elbow prosthesis to be completed so that Scott can more efficiently complete all essential job duties without assistance from other employees. They even allowed Nunnery Prosthetics and Karen LeBeau from ORS to come to Electric Boat and have Scott use a simulated prosthetic arm to determine if this particular prosthesis would allow Scott to independently perform his job. Once the prosthesis was completed, this allowed Scott to switch to a more desired schedule of second shift.
Client: Donna Cimerol-D’Arezzo
Counselor: Barbara Mulligan-White

August 24, 2006 dramatically changed the course of Donna Cimerol D’Arezzo’s life forever. On this evening driving with her 14 year old daughter, Donna was in an accident that would change her life and challenge her physically, mentally and spiritually. Donna sustained a traumatic cervical spinal cord injury, consistent with complete quadriplegia at C6 and C7, that requires she use a wheelchair for mobility. Donna was referred to ORS through St. Joseph’s Rehabilitation Unit.

Through determination and hard work Donna returned to what she loves most, teaching elementary art. Donna had been an art teacher for the last 20 years and was very much valued by her students, parents and co-workers. She started back to work on a part-time basis in March, 2008 and as of September, 2009 has returned to full-time employment.

The Office of Rehabilitation Services (ORS) has had the opportunity to assist Donna with her transition back to work. ORS and Donna worked with her employer to implement the necessary worksite accommodations. We have been able to assist her in purchasing art tools that are easier for her to manipulate. Through the assistance of ORS she was able to attend Shake A Leg and gain valuable skills that will help her in her daily living. In addition, she has a passion to assist others in the same situation. ORS may assist her with more accessibility at home and with her transportation needs. Donna is very anxious to drive again.

Client: Eric
Counselor: Teresa Scarmuzzo-DiMattia

Eric is a 19 year old young man who has demonstrated a great deal of determination to overcome some of the challenges associated with a learning disability. In an effort to determine a promising future of financial independence and success, he and his family initiated a referral to ORS.

When Eric started the ORS process with his Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor, Teresa, he was unsure of his vocational goal. He knew he was a hands-on learner, but did not know what field would be the best fit for him. After sending Eric for vocational testing, Teresa and Eric explored training programs in business, welding & carpentry. He chose the Amos House Carpentry program and thrived. Through his efforts, Eric was able to build a solid foundation for his future and to feel a sense of accomplishment about a job well-done. He not only found gainful employment with the Pezucco Construction Company, but he also is furthering his education at CCRI.

In an email, Eric’s mother, Diane, expressed her gratitude to ORS and Teresa. She stated, “Eric thinks very highly of you and Bill (of Amos House).” Diane believes Eric’s respect for Teresa and Bill “played a big part in his success.”
Client: Ginger Seekell
Counselor: Danielle Williams

Ginger Seekell has been an on-going client of ORS since 1995 when she was referred by her school’s special education department. Ginger graduated from high school in 1997 and then attended New England Technical Institute to enhance her computer skills. Ginger was employed as a central office worker in 2000, and her case was closed as she was successfully employed.

In 2007 Ginger re-opened her case with ORS in order to obtain assistance with maintaining a new job at Looking Upwards in Middletown. Ginger obtained employment as a receptionist. ORS sponsored an Assistive Technology evaluation to identify what tools would assist her in performing the job. The evaluation determined she needed a mouth stick and a new headset in order to maintain this position. ORS was able to assist her in obtaining these technologies.

After being in this job for 2 years Ginger asked for ORS’ assistance in maintaining her job by assisting her in updating her work space. An additional technology evaluation was completed, and ORS was able to support Ginger in obtaining a new computer and a smaller keyboard.

Ginger is now able to do her job more efficiently and with greater independence. She is generally the first smiling face you see when you walk into the Looking Upwards office, and is a huge asset to the agency.
Joshua Martins is a 33-year old man who possesses a visual impairment which occurred as a result of complications from Type I juvenile diabetes.

Joshua had been attending Northeastern University where he was pursuing a career in Criminal Psychology prior to losing his sight. After several extensive surgeries on both eyes, he lost sight to the wet form of diabetic retinopathy. At that time, Joshua felt that who and what he was, was now gone forever.

About a year later after regaining a sense of physical and emotional healthiness, Joshua came to ORS for assistance with reestablishing his life. Jane Cannata, his ORS Counselor, arranged for mobility instruction which included learning to use a guide cane properly. Shortly after he completed this training, he approached Jane with hopes of returning to college. This time looking to attain his Bachelors degrees in Secondary Education and History from the University of Rhode Island. This agency helped him with Assistive Technology that he used throughout his education and on the job, computer training, additional training when necessary, tuition assistance, utilizing the RIDE program, learning Braille which he used while seeking employment, and providing information and possibilities available to him to make this decision a reality.

Along the way, Joshua had unforeseen obstacles that he encountered including a kidney transplant. However, ORS was able to be a resource and assist Joshua in finding answers and solutions.

In 2006, Joshua received his BA’s in Secondary Education with Middle School Endorsement and History with a minor in Philosophy. He works as a substitute teacher in the South Kingstown School Department while he is in pursuit of a full-time teacher position.
